THE HYMNS OF MARTIN LUTHER; Set to their original melodies, with an English version. Edited by Leonard Woolsey Bacon, assisted by Nathan H. Allen New-York: Published in commemoration of the four hundredth anniversary of Luther's birthday, November 10, 1483. Charles Scribner's Sons. 1853. 1 vol., 4to. pp. xxvii., 71.

This neat volume is admirably adapted to help

English-speaking people to an appreciation of one phase too little known of that genius whose influ-ence went out in all directions like the rays of the sun to give health to the life of the sixteenth century. On all sides vistas through the intellectual history of modern Germany terminate in Luther. He looms up as the warm heart, great brain and strong arm of the Church Reformation; as the primary and most potent impulsive power of the reformation of letters; as the creator of a language which, as Heine has said, "holds its place to this day in Germany and gives to that politically and religiously dismembered nation a literary unity"; as the mighty instrument of a great political revolution; as the ardent champion of science and art-the former under the ban of the old Church, the latter threatened by the new; finally, also, he is a figure of imposing proportions in the history of music. The debt that the modern art owes to him is not sufficiently recognized outside of Germany, where his hymns, his melodies and his service heard in the churches on every Sunday and holiday serve to keep the obligation before the popular mind. He was the founder of the Kircheniica, congregational hymn—and this became one of the strong props upon which Bach built the gigantic structure which has within itself all the forms that go to make up the musical art of to-day.

In a general way we all know that Luther was a

He studied the art in the schools of Mansfeld, Magdeburg and Eisenach; he sang in the streets as a means to secure his education; he continned his studies after entering the Augustinian monastery; he wrote hymns, urged their use in the churches, established the German mass, and was always alert to commend music as a means of grace. MRS. LOUISA B. CULVER will receive pupils beginning Tuesday Oct. 16, in DRAWING, OIL and WATER COLOR PAINTING, STILL LIFE, FLOWERS and LANDSCAFF, CHINA PAINTING and DECORATION. STULIO, No. 50 MAPISON-AVE.

Mr. D. HUNTINGTON, Mr. WILLIAM BART, Mr. JAMES BART, Mr. A. F. BELLOWS. In his table-talk he said: "I always loved music; whose has skill in this art is of good temperament, fitted for all things. We must teach music in schools; a schoolmaster ought to have skill in music, or I would not regard him; neither should we ordain young men as preachers unless they have been well exercised in music."

It would extend this review beyond reasonable dimensions even to outline the history of the hymnology to which Luther gave an impetus on the thirty-six hymns which are here reprinted. Despite their ruggedness they are the poetic flower of the stormy period out of which they sprang, and there is hardly any exaggeration in Coleridge's remark that "Luther did as much for the Reformation by his hymns as by his translation of the Bible." They are of the people: their textual as well as musical accents were caught up in the market-place and in the homes of the humble. Some of them have strange histories. One, "Em' feste Burg," has continued to figure as prominently in the life of the German nation as it did in the life of its author, who used it to tune up his soul to the lofty pitch de manded by the awful concert in which he played a part. It has remained through a thousand vicissitudes the real national anthem of the German people. It has challenged hundreds of translating ens in England and America, and can be heard to day in the Protestant churches throughout the world. It has been done into the English, French, Dutch, Danish, Hebrew, Swedish, Latin, Spanish, Russian, Polish, Bohemian, Finnish and Lithuanian tongues, besides several African languages, and the list is being increased almost with every year. Its melody is the theme of one of Bach's greatest cantatas; hardly a German organist has lived but has expended his skill upon it; Mendelssohn has put it in a symphony; Wagner in a march and Meyerbeer into an opera. The fruit of Luther's sowing is seen to-day in a German hymnology that embraces 100,000, of which from 6,000 to 8,000 are recognized to be of standard excellence. The growth was so rapid that hundreds of hymns were accepted as Luther's long before the German Reformer died, and he felt called upon in 1543 to publish the following quaint warning against spurious hymns:

False masters now abound, who songs indite; Beware of them and learn to judge them right; Where God Fullds up His Church and Word, hard by Satan is found with murder and a lie.

In this publication the thirty-six hymns which are indisputably Luther's are arranged in chronological order and provided in the index with brief historical notices. Dr. Bacon, the author of the notes, has written also an introduction on the general subject, and appended to it trans ions of the prefaces printed by Luther in the books issued by his authority. Professor Allen has performed the work of musical editorship, compiling the original melodies of the hymns and providing them with harmonies. He has selected the latter from a variety of sources dating as far back as the sixteenth century and reaching down to to-day. The harmonization is simple in style and such as has long been used in the German churches. The settings satisfy the wants of church choirs, but additional interest would have been given the book in the eyes of musical students if a few specimens of the figured music of which Luther had both knowledge and love had been appended. It is also to be re-gretted that Dr. Bacon should have persisted in spelling the name of Johann Walther as if it were

LIVELY MARKETS IN CHICAGO.

LARGE SALES OF WHEAT-PRICES KEEP UP-CORN DULL-PROVISIONS STRONG. [BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

CHICAGO Jan. 28 .- The wheat market was puzzling to-day. One set of holders, the Adamses, who certainly bought millions of bushels when the May option was going at 96c., dumped the whole load upon the market in lots of all sizes. The market absorbed this great line of "long" grain without apparent effort, and appeared ready and capable of taking more at the same good figure—about 99c. Another set of holders, Messrs. Poole, Kent & Co., also unloaded a great quantity of wheat. This the market took too. After both these lines had been disposed of the price was as strong, if not stronger, than it was before the selling began. To-night May wheat is 991gc. bid. Saturday night the closing figure was 98%c. At the opening there were rumors of better prices at Liverpool, and of a big export demand at New-York. Then came along news of rain at California. These two pieces of news were of course conflicting in their influence. The market at first yielded to the latter, and prices declined a cent a bushel; and the May option of wheat touched 97%c. Then the foreign cables asserted themselves and the narket advanced sharply. It is a good illustration of the uneasinese of shorts, even the big ones, that a cent's advance now drives a great crowd to cover. This is the time for the yearly January thaw; traders who have experienced the craze of other years are consequently cautious. The winter wheat fields are now, it is reported, well covered with snow, but it only takes a week of just such weather as is prevalent now to make it all disappear. Once the fields were bare, a single cold the "shorts" into a panic and advance wheat 5 cents. The English houses here, especially that of Robert Warren & Co., have been large buyers of wheat.

ert Warren & Co., have been large buyers of wheat. Lester & Co. have turned on the market, have covered their shorts, and declare themselves "long" on the "call" to-night.

Corn was absolutely featureless. It sold as low as 57%, and up as high as 58%, closing at 58%58%. The receipts, 481 cars, were large, and the proportion of No. 2 (169 cars) still amazing. There were not in all, so say the brokers, above 1,000,000 bushels traded in to-day. Big holders, it is said, are getting discouraged at the receipts, and especially at the phenomenally good grading.

Provisions were as erratic in their fluctuations to-day as wheat. There were only 17,000 hogs at the yards, and these were of poor quality; yet the market was weak and prices were lower. The temperature was too high for the little puckers, and there were fewer buyers to compete. Pork opened at a decline from Saturday of 7½20 cents a barrel, and sold down 10 cents a barrel. The May option sold as low as $15.85. The buillish influences about the provision pit were about the same as those around the wheat pit. They were higher cables, a better demand at New-York, and no inclination among holders to part with their property. From a rapid advance which took place on call. May pork selling up to $16.27%, and May lard to $9.42%, it is generally believed that some of the large traders—presumably Jones and N. B. Reant—are short and that the packers are patting the screws upon them. The curb brokers, however, declare that the demand from the South has improved wonderfully of late. May pork closed at $16.27%, and May lard at $9.42%, the highest prices of the day. All sorts of provisions closed at the top.

THE ENGLISH GRAIN MARKET DULL.

LONDON, Jan. 28 .- The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the British grain trade, says: The weather has been rough. The wind and floods have done serious damage. On Friday sellers were of the opin, ion that values had gone low enough, and endeavored to make a stand; but to-day the wheat market was disappointing to sellers. Flour was depressed and quiet. Barlers were quiet and steady. Foreign wheat was unlin-proved and dull. Malze of the United States crop of 1883 is coming forward; old mixed American was held for 26s, 6d., ex-ship. Three cargoes arrived off the coast; one, a cargo of No. 1 Californian, was withdrawn, one was sold, and four remained, including one of No. 2 Am-erican Red Winter and one of No. 1 Californian. For cargoes on passage there was greater Inquiry. The sales of English wheat during the week were 62,385 quariers at 38s, per quarter against 62,535 quarters at 40s, 4d. during the corresponding week last year.

The Alta Mining Company has levied an assess-ment of twenty-live cents per share,

THE PETROLEUM MARKET. NEW-YORK, Jan. 28,

From the telegraphic advices of Hilton & Waugh the following figures of the gauge of the Cooper and Balltown districts are taken: Cooper-Wells producing, 152; production, 2,904 barrels; Balltown-wells producing, 69: production, 3,667 barrels; total—wells, 221; production, 6,671 barrels. The monthly report of development work in the oil fields will show about the following declines: 29 and 61 in the number of wells drilling and wells completed respectively, and of 114 barrels in the average new production.

The petroleum market to-day was depressed by fairly large selling, prices declining from $1 1414 to $1 10, reacting to $1 1034, but finally ending at the lowest figure of the day. There were extravagant reports of an in-creased yield from the McKinney well, in the Sheffield district, resulting from deeper drilling : as high as 2,000 barrels a day was the amount placed to its credit in one of the stories. The well has been drilled deeper, but it is "doing" less than 400 barrels a day. The standard Oil Company was credited with sales to-day, but the probabilities are that general buyers at last week's low prices have been realizing on the later rise in anticipation of a reaction after the publication of the favorable monthly report. At the end the market was easy in tone.

The range of prices and the total dealings were as follows:

The clearances elsewhere were: Oil City, 6,508,000; 3radford, 6,044,000; Pittsburg, 8,030,000. The refined market opens without change. EUROPEAN FINANCIAL MARKETS.
